Los Angeles Herald

THE DAILY and WEEKLY HERALD has more than double the circulation of any other paper published in Southern California. Business men recognize it accordingly as the best advertising medium South of San Francisco.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 7, 1875.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

Gulford's grave is to be filled with explosives so as to prevent any interference.

The Pacific Refinery and Bullion Exchange has been incorporated.

The cornerstone of a new Catholic Church at Castroville has been laid.

A disastrous fire in a coal yard in Pottsville, Pennsylvania, took place late Tuesday night. Loss, $100,000. No insurance.

The Friar's Point, Mississippi, troubles are almost settled.

The New York Herald of yesterday publishes a letter from Wendell Phillips in favor of inflation. The Herald condemns his views.

The Labor Convention in Worcester, Mass., yesterday was a failure.

Galveston has recovered from the late disaster, and business is very active.

The Supreme Court of New York affirms the order refusing to reduce Tweed's bail.

The American Board of Missions met yesterday in Chicago.

Andrew J. Bryant, Mayor elect of San Francisco, yesterday inspected the workings of the Brooklyn Police Headquarters.

A duel was fought near Montreal, by two Frenchmen, last Monday.

In the recent fight at Friar's Point, Mississippi, between whites and negroes, several were reported wounded.

The soundings in the Pacific ocean demonstrate the fact that the temperature of the water decreases with its depth. Excavations in the soil in all parts of the earth have met with increased heat at each foot of descent, and the artesian water struck at great depths in Europe is very warm.

It seems that the great chancellor of the German empire came very near being a French citizen. His father, Colonel BISMARCK, forced to leave his country in consequence of a duel, offered his services to the king of Wertenburg—JEROME BONAPARTE—and in this way became a member of the army of the first NAPOLEON, taking part in the Russian campaign. On his return he was near removing to France and becoming a subject of that country but finally returned to his home.

Grant's Last Speech.

On Sunday President GRANT and BRIGHAM YOUNG stood together on the car platform at Ogden and rode through the assembled crowd towards the Mormon city. How the heart of ULYSSES must have swelled within him as he looked upon the great apostle. He did not speak as he did at Des Moines and so the world must forever remain in ignorance of what passed through his mind, we are left to conjecture. If he had spoken he would undoubtedly have said:

"Citizens of Utah, I am glad to see you. I thank you for your attendance. I came 3000 miles to look upon the man I regard as the happiest being on the face of the globe. I refer to your great chief BRIGHAM YOUNG. I say he is happy because he has three hundred wives. You all know every wife brings at least two brothers-in-law, to say nothing of her father and mother. If I had as many brothers-in-law and fathers-in-law as BRIGHAM YOUNG, I would never accept another present from anybody. I could appoint them all to some office, and the income of the family would be very handsome. My wife likes her relations. So do I. My only sorrow is that there are not more of them. When I am re-elected I may remove to Utah that my brothers-in-law may become numerous. I bid you good night."

Patent Earthquakes.

California was cast in a different mould from that in which the rest of the great republic was fashioned. She is emphatically sui generis. Nature seems not only to have lavished her blessings upon the golden coast, but she bestowed her gifts in a different form than elsewhere. She seems to have sported with her work here, and deviated from her laws just wide enough to remain within the bounds of miraculously. She is prodigious and wonderful always, and often even ludicrous. In fact our citizens, naturally fond of expatiating upon the curiosities and wonders of their glorious country, have come to be regarded in other lands as a race of Munchausens, and the scientific men of Europe are even prone to account for the many abnormal things related of this Coast by some peculiar optical delusion or mental gridlessness caused by the dryness and brilliancy of the atmosphere.

At least we will anticipate the future and suppose such a theory as a final result. We are prepared fully to hear some enterprising journalist demonstrate that the "big grape vine" of Santa Barbara sent to the Philadelphia Exposition has been manufactured to order out of all the large vines in the State. But the people of this coast are content to let the balance of the world remain skeptical if it choose.

We can individually rejoice in the contemplation of our gigantic mountains, mammoth forests, vast sheep herds, immense beets, great pears, stalwart cabbages, dry rivers, magnificent vineyards, beautiful orange groves, and rich bonanza. But there is a native product that every man, woman and child on the Pacific coast will gladly explain to their brethren in other lands. We might even say they might go to some expense to disseminate information concerning this freak of nature. The average citizen of the world has some conception of an earthquake, and most generally a well defined idea of a volcano. Hearing plains, falling edifices, shaking mountains, terrified humanity, make up the idea conveyed by the word earthquake. It is synonymous with horror and destruction. People shrink from the thought of residence in a country where such powerful elements are working beneath them.

EASTERN NEWS.

Incendiaries.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., October 6th.—Last evening, about 10 o'clock, the foreman at Graher & Knudsen's coal yard discovered that the breakers had been set on fire, and on his attempting to put out the fire two shots were fired at him for the purpose of intimidating him, and the incendiaries escaped. In a few moments, the fire had gained such headway that it was impossible to save anything. The combustible nature of the contents of the engine house, consisting of oil, waste, etc., fed the flames, and in a few minutes the whole structure was in flames. Hundreds of people were on the spot, but they could do nothing to save the building. The loss will reach $100,000; no insurance.

Fatal Coal Oil Accident.

POTTSVILLE, October 6th.—Last evening, about 10 o'clock, a German woman named Sophia, living at Shambrauer's, was burned by the explosion of an oil lamp. The fire was extinguished in a few minutes, but not until the woman was fatally burned. She was in the most excruciating agony all night, and died this morning.

Terror in Mississippi.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., October 6th.—The latest dispatches from Friar's Point state that Sheriff Brown yesterday ordered an attack on the town by the negroes, but the latter were driven back.

The whites are organizing under the command of Generals Alcorn and Chalmers. The Sheriff has fled the country.

It is claimed that telegrams are regarding the trouble at Friar's Point were greatly exaggerated.

Wendell Phillips on Inflation.

NEW YORK, October 6th.—The Herald this morning prints another letter from Wendell Phillips in favor of backwoods. It is addressed to the Secretary of the United States Legal Tender Club, at New York, and is in reply to Carl Schurz's speech at Cincinnati, Ohio. He discusses Schurz's speech at much length and argues in favor of more greenbacks and less checks. He claims that inflation is, therefore, the first thing to bring us out.

Three per cent. of the business transactions are by checks, notes and bills of exchange, while only seven per cent. are effected by the bank currency and greenbacks, and this is the corner-stone of their grave charges against our present custom of finances.

Regarding Schurz and his argument that if the Government increases the number of greenbacks they will depreciate and gold advance, Phillips says that inflation is a system that does not contemplate any necessary increase of the whole currency, made up by bank bills, greenbacks, deposits and bills of exchange, but to have more greenbacks and less checks, more Democracy and less aristocracy in the money market.

He quotes from the history of Great Britain and France that an issue of irredeemable currency would not involve the country in a vortex of profligate consumption.

The Herald editorially discusses Phillips' letter at length and says the use Mr. Phillips makes of the recent financial history of France is an argument which will collapse like a glittering bubble the moment it is touched. This branch of his argument, the Herald says, is unfit for a gentleman of his intelligence. The Herald also publishes a letter of General Butler to the Secretary of the same club, dated Boston, Sept. 20th, on the subject of the reduction of values of property in this city, and on the lavish condition of the working class. They will submit to anything for work. He asks how long shall such things be? He says the working men will be obliged to call for their wages invested in the savings banks, and when that call comes the money lenders at usury must stand from under, or may find themselves as much broken in spirit as the workingmen are now. The Herald comments on his promised address to the Board of Trade.

Boy Drowned—Corner Stone Laid.

CASTROVILLE, Oct. 6th.—Two boys from this place were swimming at a terrace in Salinas river about two miles from here. One of them, named Joseph Madison, aged 16, got beyond his depth, and, being unable to swim, was drowned. The Coroner's Jury rendered a verdict of accidental drowning.

The Catholics of this place laid the corner stone of their new church yesterday. The ceremonies were impressive. One Bishop, six Priests, a band of music and a large concourse of people from this and adjoining towns were present.

Gulford's Grave.

MONTREAL, Oct. 6th.—It is reported that the authorities of the Institute Canadienne have been in communication with the Navy Department at Washington in reference to the use of the most efficient seal to be used in Gulford's grave to prevent its being tampered with after burial. Two hundred picked men will, it is reported, be sent from the Governor-General's foot guard to be present at the burial of Gulford's remains.

Late Telegrams.

EASTERN NEWS.

Catholic Temperance Society.

CINCINNATI, October 6th.—The fifth annual meeting of the Catholic Total Abstinence Society convened here to-day. A large number of prominent delegates were present from all parts of the country. The procession was quite large, notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather.

W. Wiley, of respectable appearance, was tried yesterday on the charge of attempting to outrage Mrs. M. Whalen, residing on Dora street. The woman related in court that Wiley, who is acquainted with her husband, called at the house and inquired for him. Finding him absent he sat down and complained of being faint. He asked Mrs. Whalen to get him some beer; she did so, whereupon he attacked her and attempted to outrage her. She fought and screamed, but no assistance came, and in the meanwhile he choked and struck her till blood came. The neighbors found her lying on the floor insensible. The prisoner denied the outrage part, and said they had drunk beer together, and she began screaming for no apparent reason. He will give in evidence to-day of good character.

A Cigar Decision.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6th.—Attorney General Bear has been called upon to decide a knotty problem. The existing law requires that all cigar boxes be stamped in letters produced by burning with a rod of iron with the manufacturer's name and the location of his collection district. It has been discovered recently that paper boxes have been largely used by the manufacturers. They claim that to comply with the law ruins the box, as the impression is so light, if care be taken to prevent the destruction of the box, that the inscription is scarcely discernible. The Commissioner of Internal Revenue is of the opinion that a strict application of the law to such boxes is impracticable, and he has no authority to allow a substitute to be used; but he has asked the Attorney General if he has such right.

Yacht Race.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6th.—The yacht race between Estelle and Resolute to-day, being the first of a series of four races, was won by Estelle by one minute on time allowance.

Fire Engineers' Convention.

NEW YORK, October 6th.—To-day was the third day of the Fire Engineers' Convention. The Committee on General Topics reported a series of subjects for debate, which occupied several hours. The delegates were invited to be present to-morrow to witness the presentation of the Bennett medals to members of the city fire department.

A Naval Officer Dead.

BROOKLYN, Oct. 6th.—James Lydig Plunkett, late Master in the U. S. Navy, died at his residence to-day, of consumption.

Friar's Point.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., October 6th.—In a fight at Friar's Point yesterday eight negroes and one white man are reported wounded. Sheriff Jones is also wounded. At Johnstown, fourteen miles East, the negroes are reported to be re-organizing. Business is suspended. Squads are going from the hill counties on both sides from Helena. There has been no fighting to-day. The war grew out of Ames and Alcorn's antagonism.

The Tweed Case.

NEW YORK, October 6th.—The decision of the Supreme Court was given to-day affirming the order refusing to reduce the $2,000,000 bail in the Tweed case and making an order to bring the bill of particulars to be furnished by the court.

The Late Storm.

NEW ORLEANS, October 6th.—The bridge over the bay at Galveston is repaired and trains are running regularly. In the city scarcely any traces remain of the effects of the storm. Business is very active in all branches of trade. Contributions are coming in from all sections for the sufferers, and are being forwarded to points where most needed. Galveston harbor has been greatly benefited by the storm, having been washed and reopened. There are now 14 to 15 feet of water on the bar.

A Distinguished Visitor.

NEW YORK, October 6th.—Andrew J. Bryant, Mayor elect of San Francisco, to-day inspected the workings of the Brooklyn Police Headquarters, in company with Hon. Wm. M. Call, of the Board of Education, and ex-School Commissioner Daniel S. Lot.

Mayor Bryant expressed himself much pleased. On Friday evening the resident Californians, together with prominent New Yorkers, will entertain Mayor Bryant with a complimentary dinner at the Windsor Hotel.

American Missions.

CHICAGO, Oct. 6th.—The American Board of Missions listened to a paper this morning by Secretary S. D. Treat, on the proposed modification of organization of the Board. Two modifications were considered on enlarging of the privileges and powers of honorary members, another was, bringing of various ecclesiastic bodies into closer relation to the Board. Certain minor modifications tending toward these two great changes might be beneficial and expedient.

Labor Convention.

WORCESTER, Mass., Oct. 6th.—The Labor Reform Convention, which met here to-day was thinly attended, only twenty-one persons present, including seven reporters. Thos. Chamberlin, of Boston, was chosen President, and made a speech alluding to the great uprising of the labor reform party rendering it inexpedient to make nominations for State officers. The speaker denounced Gov. Gaston for ordering out the militia to preserve peace at Fall River. Resolution adopted denouncing capitalists and monopolists. Wendell Phillips was nominated for Governor.

Epizootic.

PHILADELPHIA, October 7th.—The veterinary surgeon states that eighty per cent. of the horses in this city are now suffering from the epizootic.

Racing in New Hampshire.

MANCHESTER, N. H., October 6.—The attendance at the second day's trotting of the Fall meeting at Merrimac River Park was large.

The first race was for a purse of $300 for 2:24 class. Thirteen entries were made. The race was won by Whisper. Time, 2:41, 2:39, 2:37 and 2:40.

The second race was for a purse of $300, for 2:34 class. Won by Jo Franklin. Time, 2:30, 2:37, 2:35.

The horse disease prevails here. A number of horses have died and many more are sick.

FOREIGN.

HALIFAX, N. S., October 6th.—Chas. Macaulay, of French Cross, was killed on Friday by being thrown from a wagon.

The late gale was severely felt on the New Foundland coast, and some fishing boats lost. The coasting steamer Oriel was lost near Red Bay.

A Duel.

MONTREAL, Oct. 6th.—Two French gentlemen named George and Ravet left town on Monday to fight a duel. They fought with swords according to French rule. Ravet was badly but not dangerously wounded.

European Troubles.

LONDON, Oct. 6th.—A dispatch from Bayonne states that Alfonso has offered Don Carlos an ample annuity, payable from the royal exchequer with the title and rank of an Infante, if he will cease the war. The offer has been refused by Don Carlos, who has intimated his determination to continue the war to the end.

The Porte, acting under advice of England, has refused to accept any further intervention in Herzegovina trouble. The insurgents have been offered general amnesty if they will lay down their arms.

To the Afflicted.

[From the Wilmington Enterprise.]

Dr. Aborn, who has acquired great celebrity as an oculist, aurist, catarrh, throat and lung physician, is at the Backman house, Los Angeles, where he will remain about two weeks. The Doctor has for several years devoted special attention to the treatment of chronic nasal catarrh, deafness, all diseases of the eye, ear, head, throat, organs of the chest, and afflictions of the nervous system. We have read many of his testimonials, which are from the first men of the nation, all of whom clearly testify to his superior knowledge and medical skill in the treatment of his specialties. ### LETTER FROM RIVERSIDE.

What Garcelon Knows about Grapes—How Maine Grapes are Grown—California Grapes—Trellising Grapes—Great Production.

EDITOR HERALD:—Nearly three years in Southern California, and I cannot invest myself of a certain kind of New England dread of the coming winter which October begins to usher in. Will you pardon my correspondent in the absence of more important matter he tells.

WHAT HE KNOWS ABOUT GRAPES?

Ten year's experience in Maine and nearly three years in Southern California. In Maine I cultivated Hartford Prolific Concord, Delaware, Iowa, Madison, Clinton, Northern Muscatine, Massasoit, Ogawana, Adirondack, Diana and a few others. To cultivate and to ripen were two different things. The exception to the general rule was to ripen. How often have I witnessed a committee at some of our Maine Fairs taste and smack their lips over fruit which if it had been called "grape" would have been turned from with wry faces. But were not these grapes home production, and who would dare pronounce them anything but delicious? Many times have I gathered all the spare carpets and matting, rushed out in the cool Autumn evenings and "lovingly" tucked in my vines. Alas! Jack Frost confounded all my labors, and another season's grapes was spoiled. But we get used to this kind of thing in the Northeast, and take down our vines just as tenderly, tie and wrap the canes and look forward hopefully to another year.

CALIFORNIA GRAPES.

Here, what a difference! Grape authorities East write, do not let your vine bear more than one or two clusters at three years old. From fifteen two-year-old vines transplanted when one year old, I gathered of the variety called Muscat of Alexandria, ten bushels of grapes. From vines one year from the cutting I have taken from ten to fifteen fine bunches of grapes, although I have seen twenty-five varieties, including some of our best exotic, yet a variety called the Salem, very much like that grape known as the Shaker grape or Northern Muscatine, seems to me not sought after by those who come into my grounds.

Many, who, after tasting Chasselas, Hamburg, Muscat, Tokay, Groveridge, Royal Muscadine, &c., will turn to this "foxy" flavored grape, and pronounce it the best of all. In the same way we turn from a salmon to a codfish, from an orange to an apple, and are carried thereby to the cold shores of the Northern Atlantic.

—TRELLISING GRAPES.

I believe in trellising grapes. Not high trellises, but about six feet, made of cedar, and all other things being equal, a grapevine upon a trellis, which is properly trained, will produce twice the quantity of grape, ripening more early, resisting better early frosts, saving water-space and time, than if pruned low, in the old vine-yard form. From one vine of Muscat, trellised, moved when one year old, now three years, I gathered sixty-five pounds of nice grapes, all of which will make and are making good raisins. There must have been nearly ten pounds taken from this vine before I thought of weighing the fruit, and I do not offer this as an isolated case, for many of my vines were just as productive. Some, only two years old, would equal if not exceed this amount. But perhaps this is grapes enough.

MISCELLANEOUS.

I learn that our skillful nurserymen, Messrs. Russell, are making arrangements to go largely into the raising of the choicer varieties of flowering plants and shrubbery for the market.

Riverside will be able to beautify her homes without calling upon Dr. Aborn, so after one who has been attending to set out in the Spring a choice plant to summer and the purpose of placing myself under his treatment; I finally made arrangements to visit San Francisco the last of October, but fortunately for me the Doctor arrived in Los Angeles about a week ago; I called on the Doctor at the Backman house yesterday and submitted myself to his treatment, and to my great joy and surprise he has, within twenty-four hours, restored my hearing, so that I can now hear distinctly conversation across a large room; I can hear an ordinary watch tick quite a distance from the ear; my hearing has been so suddenly restored that the noise of wagons and the bustle on the streets seem to me unpleasant at first, as would naturally be expected after having been totally deaf so long; Dr. Aborn's operations caused no pain or unpleasant feeling whatever; Mr. J. W. Wild, a student of mine, who has been attending to my deafness, has had his treatment suspended, and I have been attending to my deafness since he left. The doctor has been greatly relieved—my deafness disappeared in a few days, and I am now able to hear again. Dr. ABORN relieved me of severe neuralgic pain, and with four applications it was entirely gone. I am now able to sleep well and perfectly. I hope that they may find quick and permanent relief.

JAMES A. JOHNSON, M.C.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 21st, 1869.

To WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: Having been a sufferer from cerebral and a nervous bronchial affection for more than two years, I have long found great relief by submitting myself to Dr. ABORN's treatment for a few days and weeks, and in trying it in April, with his new and improved apparatus for local application to the lungs, all pass well, etc. and each should encourage him who suffers from such a disease.
